

SLEEK

ART

8 Must-See Pavilions at the 2017 Venice Biennale

The 57th International Art Exhibition is now open. Here are 8 pavilions you can't miss at the big event.

Israel

“Sun Stand Still” by Gal Weinstein
Curated by Tami Katz-Freiman

Greeting visitors at this two-story pavilion is the unmistakable scent of coffee, which was used to create an installation depicting a bird's-eye-view of the Jezreel Valley. Throughout the Biennale's 6 month run, the installation will mould, inviting a smell that's decidedly less pleasant to fill the space.

The 57th International Art Exhibition is on display in Venice until 26 November 2017

Gloria Cardona

– Gloria Cardona is Sleek's junior editor and resident pop culture nerd. The Atlanta native enjoys early 2000s radio rap and self-deprecating memes. You can read more of her work at gcardona.com.

#gloriacardona